

Writing, Grades 4-6

Conclusion

As with reading, the students are taught to be thoughtful, organized writers. By introducing the students to the writing process and supporting their efforts as writers, they are assured success in learning to communicate through writing.