Discussing Strategy Use

After they have read the story, encourage the students to share any problems they encountered and to tell what strategies they used to solve them.

- Where did they pause in the reading to summarize?
- How did they make, confirm, and revise predictions as they read?

Remind students that good readers use all the strategies, and that the students should be using them whenever they read. Make sure that the students explain how using the strategies helped them better understand the story.

The robins flew out of the bush.
But they could not fly as high as the kite.
