

Phonics and Fluency, Grade 1

Introduction

This course shows how first grade teachers help children become independent and fluent readers by: providing explicit instruction in blending words; helping children move from blending to instant word recognition; and providing opportunities to read decodable text.